NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the financial statements

2. Statement on the compliance with the Accounting Standards and System

The Board of Directors ensures to follow all the requirements of the Vietnamese Accounting Standards and System, which were issued together with the Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC dated 22 December 2014 as well as other Circulars guiding the implementation of Vietnamese Accounting Standards of the Ministry of Finance in the preparation and presentation of the Financial Statements.

III. II. ACCOUNTING CONVENTION AND FISCAL YEAR

1. Accounting convention

The accompanying financial statements, expressed in Viet Nam Dong (VND), are prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, Vietnamese Accounting System and prevailing accounting regulations in Vietnam.

2. Fiscal year

The Company's fiscal year begins on 1 January and ends on 31 December

IV SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, Vietnamese Accounting System and prevailing accounting regulations in Vietnam requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

2. Foreign currency translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are converted at the actual exchange rates ruling as at the transaction dates. The ending balances of monetary items in foreign currencies are converted at the actual exchange rates ruling as at the balance sheet date.

Foreign exchange differences arisen from foreign currency transactions during the period shall be included into financial income or financial expenses. Foreign exchange differences due to the revaluation of ending balances of the monetary items in foreign currencies after offsetting their positive differences against negative differences shall be included into financial income or financial expenses.

The exchange rate used to convert foreign currency transactions is the actual exchange rate ruling as at the time of these transactions. The actual exchange rates applied to foreign currency transactions are as follows:

- For the foreign currency trading contract: the exchange rate stipulated in the contracts of trading foreign currency between the Company and the Bank.
- If the contract does not specify the applied exchange rate:
 - For capital contribution made or received: the buying rate of the bank where the Company opens its account to receive capital contributed from investors as at the date of capital contribution.
 - For receivables: the buying rate ruling as at the time of transaction of the commercial bank where the Company designates the customers to make payments.
 - For payables: the selling rate ruling as at the time of transaction of the commercial bank where the Company supposes to make payments.
 - For acquisition of assets or immediate payments in foreign currency (not included into payable accounts): the buying rate of the commercial bank where the Company makes payments.

The exchange rate used to re-evaluate ending balances of monetary items in foreign currencies as at the balance sheet date is determined in accordance with following principles:

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the financial statements

- For foreign currency deposits: the buying rate of the bank where the Company opens its foreign currency account.
- For monetary items in foreign currencies classified as other assets: the buying rate of the commercial bank where the Company frequently conducts transactions.
- For monetary items in foreign currencies classified as payables: the selling rate of the commercial bank where the Company frequently conducts transactions.

3. Receivables

Receivables are presented in the financial statements at the carrying amounts due from customers and other debtors, along with the provision for doubtful debts.

Receivables are recorded in details in accordance with receivable maturity, objects and currencies:

- Trade receivables includes commercial receivables which arise from purchase - sale transactions.
- Other receivables includes non-commercial receivables which do not arise from purchase - sale transactions.

Receivables with recover term or payment term under 1 year are reclassified as current assets.

Receivables with recover term or payment term more than 1 year and make provision by 100% are reclassified as non current assets.

The provision for doubtful debts represents the estimated loss due to non-payment arising on receivables that were outstanding at the balance sheet date. Increases and decreases to the provision balance are recorded as general and administrative expense in the income statement.

4. Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition, and net realizable value. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price less anticipated cost of disposal and after making allowance for damaged, obsolete and slow-moving items.

Inventories are valued based on the actual cost basis and on a weighted average basis.

The perpetual method is used to record inventories.

An inventories provision is created for the estimated loss arising due to the impairment (through diminution, damage, obsolescence...) of raw materials, finished goods, and other inventories owned by the Company, based on appropriate evidence of impairment available at the balance sheet date. Increases and decreases to the provision balance are recorded into the cost of goods sold account in the income statement.

5. Fixed assets and depreciation

Fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of an asset comprises of its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to working condition for its intended use. Expenditure for additions, improvements and renewals are capitalized and expenditure for maintenance and repairs are charged to the income statement. When assets are sold or retired, their cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the balance sheet and any gain or loss resulting from their disposal is included in the income statement.

Depreciation and amortization

Depreciation of fixed assets is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of each asset with the rate of depreciation as follow:

Plant, buildings	05 - 25 years
Machinery	05 - 06 years
Transportation	05 - 06 years
Office equipment	03 - 05 years

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the financial statements

6. Intangible assets and amortization

The software comprises of its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to working condition for its intended use and its amortization is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life to 3 years.

7. Prepaid expense

Prepayments comprise small tools, spare parts, which are expected to provide future economic benefits to the Company for more than one year. These expenditures have been capitalised as long-term prepayments, and are allocated to income statement using the straight-line method over the period of three years in accordance with the prevailing accounting regulations.

8. Principles of recording financial investments

Investments in entities include investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures, associates and other equity investments for the purpose of holding for the long term.

Provision for investment losses in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates is made when the enterprise receiving the invested capital suffers a loss, leading to the possibility of the Company losing capital or when the value of investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates decreases in value. The basis for making provision for investment losses is the financial statements of the invested company.

9. Liabilities

Liabilities are recorded at original cost and not lower than the payment obligation. Liabilities shall be classified into trade payables, inter-company payables and other payables depending on the nature of transactions and relationship between the Group and debtors.

At the reporting date, if it is evident that there is an unavoidable loss, an amount payable shall be recorded according to prudent principle

10. Salary, social insurance, health insurance and unemployment insurance

Salary is counted and charged into expense based on labour contract. The Company accounted the social, health and unemployed insurances based on the contract salary of the laborer according to prevailing regulations in Vietnam.

11. Principles of recording loans and financial lease liabilities

The value of loans recorded is the total amount borrowed from banks, organizations, financial companies and other entities (excluding loans in the form of bond issuance or preferred stock issuance with terms requiring the issuer to repurchase at a certain time in the future).

Loans and financial lease liabilities are tracked in detail for each lending entity, each debtor, each loan agreement and each type of debt asset.

12. Recording of contributed capital

The paid-in capital is the amount that is contributed by members and supplemented. The owners' paid-in capital will be recorded at the actual contributed capital by cash.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the financial statements

Profit distribution

Profit after tax is divided to shareholders after being passed by the Annual Shareholder Meeting and the Company's funds established under the Company's regulations and the prevailing laws of Vietnam.

The Company sets aside the following funds from the Company's after-tax profit at the request of the Board of Directors and approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders:

- Investment and development fund: To serve the company's operation expansion or in-depth investment
- Bonus and welfare fund: To bring general welfare to employees.

13. Revenue recognition

Revenue from the sale of goods and finished goods shall be recognized when all the 05 following conditions have been satisfied:

- The Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;
- The Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company;
- The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Revenue from rendering services is recognized when the outcome of the transaction is determined reliably. Transaction involving in the rendering of services related to several periods is recognized at a result of completed work at the day of balance sheet. Result of transaction is recognized when all 04 conditions have been satisfied:

- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the services rendered will flow to the Company;
- The stage of completion at the balance sheet date can be measured reliably;
- The costs incurred, or to be incurred, in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Income from interest, dividends and divided profit shall be recognized when all the 02 following conditions have been satisfied:

- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company;
- The amount of income can be measured reliably;

14. Cost of goods sold

Cost of goods sold are the cost services and other expenses recorded in the cost of goods sold or recorded a decrease in the cost of goods sold in reporting period. The cost of goods sold is recorded at the date the transaction incurs or likely to incur in the future regardless payment has been made or not. The cost of goods sold and revenue shall be recorded simultaneously on conformity principle.

15. Related party

Related parties include: Enterprises and individuals that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control, or are controlled by, or are under common control with the Company. Associates and individuals owning, directly or indirectly, an interest in the voting power of the Company that gives them significant influence over the enterprise, key management personnel, including directors and officers of the Company and close members of the family of these individuals and companies associated with these individuals also constitute related parties. In considering each possible related party relationship, attention is directed to the substance of the relationship, and not merely the legal form.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the financial statements

16. Taxation

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is provided using the balance sheet liability method on temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount for financial reporting purpose.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, carried forward of unused tax credit and unused tax losses, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences, carried forward of unused tax credit and unused tax losses can be utilized.

17. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share amounts are calculated by dividing net profit after tax for the year attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Company after appropriation to bonus and welfare fund by weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted earnings per share amounts are calculated by dividing the net profit after tax attributable to ordinary equity holders of the Company (after adjusting for interest on the convertible preference shares) by the weighted average number of ordinary shares that would be issued on conversion of all the dilutive potential ordinary shares into ordinary shares.

18. Financial Instruments

Financial assets

At the initial record date, a financial asset is recorded with cost plus expenses directly related to the purchase of that asset. Financial assets of the Company consist of cash, cash equivalents, short term investments, other long term investments, accounts receivable and other financial assets.

Financial debts

At the date of initial recognition, the financial liabilities are recognized at cost plus transaction cost that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial liabilities. Financial liabilities of the Company comprise trade payables, other payables, borrowings and liabilities.
